

Behavioral Health Services Modular Office

Saluda, SC

The Challenge

A behavioral health services system in Saluda, South Carolina needed a versatile and efficient solution to accommodate their growing staff and client needs. They required a 1400 sq ft office building that included private office spaces for staff, a large group room, a dedicated area for file storage, and a room compliant with Uniform Data System (UDS) requirements, all while ensuring quick installation to minimize disruption to their services.

The Solution

Modular Genius provided a 1400 sq ft modular office building that met all the specified needs of the behavioral health services system. The building featured three private offices for confidential consultations, a versatile group room, a file room for secure storage of records, a single-occupant restroom, and a UDS collect room compliant with federal data reporting standards. The modular solution ensured rapid deployment and installation, adhering to local building codes and health-care facility regulations, allowing the health service company to continue their important work with minimal downtime.
